Background

 Summary
I'm a senior at Berkeley, starting to look for roles in the financial industry. As an economics major, I'm fascinated by the invisible forces that shape our world. Why does one company succeed and another fail? Is it possible to predict which idea will be the next big thing?
As such, I've taken lots of microeconomics coursework and have interned with a local venture capital firm. And now I'd like to put that experience to good use, analyzing tomorrow's up-and-coming companies.

Venture Capital Financing in India

For our International Monetary Economics course, Paul and I decided to study the emerging venture capital industry in India. “David spent the summer with us at Berkeley Ventures and made an immediate impact. He showed us a brand new technique for firm analysis that he had just learned in school and came through with recommendations that opened our eyes to a unique set of opportunities.

We don't normally hire undergrads as interns but after working with David, we will again!

ASKING FOR AN INTRODUCTION FROM A CONNECTION

Dear Professor Walter:

I noticed that you are connected on LinkedIn with Ms. Jane Smith, a medical device sales representative from XYZ Company. As we discussed in the past, I am very interested in exploring sales careers related to the medical and surgical devices, and I believe there is much I can learn from Ms. Smith's experience. Would it be possible for you to connect me with her? I would really appreciate your help. Thank you for considering my request.

Kindly,
